

Determine the deflection and curvature of point C using the moment area method. Compare these results to your previous solutions.